

Partner Locator Management

ZINFI has developed the Locator module as part of its Unified Channel Management (UCM) automation platform to make it quick and easy for vendor organizations to match potential customers with partners; who know their industry, are experienced with appropriate solutions and are conveniently located. The Partner Locator tool can also be made available to prospects to search for partners on their own.

Demand generator

UCM's Locator module is a great tool for partner empowerment. Partners can not only market their profile, but they can also leverage the power of your organization's name and brand to generate more business for themselves. You can also reward your most promising and best-performing partners by featuring them in top search results.

The Locator module allows your organization to access channel partner profiles more quickly and effectively. Using the Partner Locator tool, channel management team members can easily track detailed partner profile information and conduct deep searches revealing sales history, lead generation activities and other channel program-related activities.
